Freshmen

In September the Freshmen started out with an enrolment of one hundred fifty-six; a large class, they thought. They were a plucky class, too, for not even the hardships of initiation suffered on Founders' Day and successive days caused them to lose courage.

At the beginning of the second semester, the Freshmen had increased to two hundred seventy-one in number—the greatest in the history of the College. In fact, there were so many Freshmen that their pictures could not all be placed on one page; so here they are, a fine array of girls and boys. Their officers tell us that the class is great not only in number, but also in scholarship and loyalty. Yea, Freshmen!

"The Class of '33"

A PLAY WRITTEN BY THE CLASS WITH THE ASSISTANCE OF THE CLASS SPONSOR, MARY HESTER COOPER.

Time: 1950.

Place: Pikeville, Kentucky, the largest city in Eastern Kentucky. The University of Pikeville, formerly known as Pikeville College, is the chief point of interest to visitors.

Setting: The living room of Lon Wellman's home.

SYNOPSIS

ACT I. Lon and Ruby (Moore) are seated in the living room talking, making plans for the class reunion which is to be held in their home. At the close of a strenuous day's work Lon falls asleep and dreams of "the good ole days".

ACT II. Scene 1. A Dream. The date is Tuesday, May 23, 1933. The students are seen in the laboratory, but the teachers are absent. "Why, for crying out loud, of course." Candy, gossip, and experiments do not mix well; at least they do not form a compound. The bell rings and interrupts their good time.

Scene 2. The dream is continued, but the scene has changed to Class Night. Seniors air their grievances against, but at the same time pay tribute to, their teachers, parents, and friends.

ACT III. Scene 1. Lon is awakened.

Scene 2. Same as Act I, but in the evening. The members of the class gather and find out what all the others have been doing. Weddings, shipwrecks, children, a United States Senator, "the blind," all are discussed. A member of the Board of Trustees of the University of Pikeville makes a very startling announcement.

Y. W. C. A.

It is the purpose of the Young Women's Christian Association to create a spirit of good will on the campus, to institute Christian principles in the lives of its members, and to encourage social life. Above all else the Y. W. C. A. aims to help the students to realize to the fullest extent their God-given possibilities.

The Y. W. C. A. helps the girls through discussion groups and by bringing in speakers who give to them talks along such vocational lines as nursing, Girl Scout work, and Foreign Mission work. These inspirational talks are of interest and benefit to every girl in the College.

STELLA POTENSKY

GLEN SCALF

CONSTANCE ROBERTS

Cheer Leaders

*When Stella, Connie, and Glen step out
And the Bears are on the floor,
You hear for many a mile the shout
Of P. C.'s Boosters roar.*

*Many a time the score is tied
And the end is very near;
They often win in the final stride,
Spurred by the constant cheer.*

*So here's to Stella, Connie, and Glen!
Though cheer leaders come and go,
The best school spirit we show is when They're leading the P. C. show.*

Bears Lettermen Basketball

HAMBLEY

(Guard)

Billy, a guard, has ever been true;
When score is lagging he always comes through.

SCOTT

(Forward)

Frank, a forward, though tiny in size,
Is sure of the goal and fast otherwise.

ALLEN

(Guard)

Concerning Claudie, one can't say enough;
But we've all decided that he knows his stuff.

DAY

(Forward)

Day, though little, is fast just the same,
Was high-point man in 'most every game.

Bears Lettermen Basketball

G. CHILDERS

(Center)

Some of the fans like "Hi Daddy" best,
He stands head and shoulders above all the rest.

ROBERTS

(Guard)

"Butch" has a striking, defensive expression;
His very looks denote strong aggression.

THOMAS

(Forward)

Thomas is accurate and calm all the while,
Comes under the basket for crips with a smile.

CANELLA

(Manager)

Looking for a crafty, good-hearted fellow,
The Bears did well in choosing Canella.

N. CHILDERS

(Guard)

Noble's our guard, who is always alert;
Good on defense and comes through with a spurt.
